

Brief Reflection

Patience is eluding me but Kindness and Generosity are feathers in my cap, or so I think....

I have known Delight, on occasion and I am no stranger to Forgiveness but Courage is something I have yet to embrace,

Balance is difficult for me to keep and Kindness towards myself sounds like an odd and novel idea

Humility is an old friend

Gratitude is definitely a new friend and a good friend

Honesty is woven in my bones, alas

Right speech not so much

Loyalty dwells in my heart and Principles hold the frame of my existence, most of the time

Inspiration taunts me with its fleeting whisper.. and then leaves and Love plays hide and seek, flowing in and out, except when it comes to Mossy, the kitty with orange eyelashes...
